

BRIAN A. RUDOLPH

875 SE Olson Drive • Waukee, IA 50263 • (702) 239-3333 (cell) • rudolph@me.com

A higher education and executive professional known for written communications, creativity, strategic thinking, engaging presentations, a commitment to diversity, collaboration, and bridging the gap between technical and non-technical audiences.

EDUCATION and CERTIFICATIONS

Iowa State University – Ames, IA

Master of Science in Information Systems

August 2023

Bowling Green State University – Bowling Green, OH

Master of Science in Computer Science

May 1984

Bachelor of Science in Computer Science, Cum Laude

December 1982

Associate of Applied Business

August 1981

International Information Systems Security Certification Consortium (ISC2) – Alexandria, VA

Certified in Cybersecurity

July 2025

Defensive Thinking, Inc. – Las Vegas, NV

Certified Social Engineering Prevention Specialist

March 2004

PROFESSIONAL WORK EXPERIENCE

COMPUTER SCIENCE FACULTY MEMBER

1983-1994

Instructor of Computer Science, Bowling Green State University - Bowling Green, OH (1983-1987)

Assistant Professor of Computer Science, University of Wisconsin-Platteville - Platteville, WI (1987-1991)

Assistant Professor of Engineering and Computer Science, Shawnee State University - Portsmouth, OH (1991-1994)

- Taught for-credit courses in baccalaureate computer science programs, including introductory and advanced programming principles, data structures, algorithms and problem-solving, software engineering, operating systems, and computing ethics
- Developed curricula for Computer Science, Software Engineering, and Engineering Technology degree programs
- Academic advisor to over 500 computer science majors and minors
- Represented all three institutions at the local, area, state, national, and international events and conferences such as ACM and EDUCAUSE
- Publications include Self-Assessment Procedure XXI: A Self-Assessment Procedure on Concurrency in volume 33, number 5 of Communications of the ACM (May 1990)

ASSOCIATION FOR COMPUTING MACHINERY, New York, New York

1989-1995

Director of Regional Contests, East Central Regional Contest Director, North Central Regional Contest Director

ACM International Collegiate Programming Contest - Professional Volunteer

Supervised 16 ACM Regional Programming Contests and directors at university contest sites worldwide, including Canada, England, the Netherlands, Australia, Taiwan, and Japan. Directed event teams of over 40 members, including contest judges, technicians, artists, media specialists, hotel staff, food service, facilities, and theatre crew. Managed contest budgets of over $150,000

- Increased student contest participation by more than 50% to over 1400 teams at over 500 universities worldwide
- Author of the 1992 ACM East Central Regional Programming Contest Proceedings, the first comprehensive, professionally-produced publication documenting the inner workings of an ACM Regional Programming Contest

SEGA, INC., Melrose Park, Illinois

1994-1997

Senior Game Designer and Software Engineer

Project manager and lead software developer for teams of engineers, creative staff, and manufacturing personnel designing coin-operated video, pinball, and novelty games for factory production

- Game design, software, and support credits include Star Wars, Independence Day, Twister, Batman Forever, and SEGA Sports games
- Authored technical service bulletins, advertising copy, product brochures, press releases, and feature articles appearing in StarTech Journal, Replay magazine, Play Meter magazine, and Vending Times magazine
- Organized annual player events to strengthen feedback relationships with vendors, distributors, operators, and players in the United States, England, France, Germany, Italy, Australia, and Japan
- Best of Show Award Winner, 1995 Amusement & Music Operators Association International Exposition, New Orleans, LA

GREENSPUN MEDIA GROUP, Las Vegas, Nevada

1997-1999

Manager of Computer Operations

Led the operation of mixed-platform computing services for 150 end users in a highly deadline-driven production environment.

- Managed the enterprise network and telecommunications infrastructure, helpdesk, training, and associated budgets and staff
- Wrote custom programs to automate a manual advertising process, repurposing two staff positions and saving over $120,000 yearly
- Designed, created, and authored proprietary internal website search and utility programs
- Oversaw design and installation of network, computing, telephone, and power systems for the company's move to new headquarters

UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA LAS VEGAS, Las Vegas, Nevada2000-2007*Director of Enterprise Systems & Applications

- Directed the operation, budgeting, maintenance, policy development, and strategic planning for multi-platform enterprise-level academic and administrative systems with over 31,000 users
- Secured a $125,000 Sun Microsystems grant to assist with system modernization
- Led culture change for a diverse team of 30 exempt and unionized technical professionals in a new centralized IT department
- Reduced technical support costs by over 50% and realized annual savings exceeding $700,000 by analyzing and consolidating services
- Increased technical staff recruitment and retention by over 95% by creating university-sanctioned training and career paths
- Author of UNLV enterprise technology RFIs/RFPs and campus IT representative to the Nevada System of Higher Education

GAME DEVELOPER AND CONSULTANT, Las Vegas, Nevada2007-2008

- Recipient of U.S. Patent #7,070,503 for a Slot Machine Method with Symbol Replacement
- Multiple appearances in casino gaming television programs for The Travel Channel, including Las Vegas: Frequently Asked Questions, Las Vegas: Beating the Odds and Las Vegas: Sucker Bets from RC Entertainment – Peter Kaikko, Executive Producer

WILLIAM PENN UNIVERSITY, Oskaloosa, Iowa2009-2011*Director of Information Services

- Identified needs and deployed state-of-the-art student, faculty, and business systems for mission-critical services, including a 20-fold bandwidth increase, Jenzabar ERP system, Blackboard LMS, and all instructional technology
- Created the university's first five-year strategic technology plan with one-time and recurring expenditure projections
- Debuted a Technology Resource Center, allowing faculty to test new classroom and mobile technologies and conduct in-class trials
- Direct report to the university president, and a member of the president's cabinet

EAST CENTRAL COLLEGE, Union, Missouri2011-2013*Director of Information Technology

- Collaborated with students, faculty, and administration to improve technology infrastructure, policies, and IT governance, including the Colleague ERP system, Moodle LMS, and unified networks and communications systems in a climate of extreme budget cutbacks
- Resolved existing internal and external conflicts with IT staff, created a culture of client service, and rebuilt trust in the IT department
- Represented the college at regional technology meetings, such as MOREnet, and national/international meetings, such as EDUCAUSE
- Integrated help desks for Media Services, Facilities, and IT into a one-stop, web-based system, realizing $50,000 of annual savings

WILBUR WRIGHT COLLEGE, Chicago, Illinois2013-2014*Dean of Information Technology

- Designed the organization structure needed for effective operation of the College to Careers IT Hub in a highly distributed environment
- Created short-term and long-term strategic plans for IT programs, faculty staffing, development, and workforce partnerships
- Led a team of faculty, industry, and academic partners to advance a modernized IT curriculum for all City Colleges featuring two-year career-oriented programs, two-year to four-year transfer programs, and continuing/adult education training/retraining programs
- Organized career fairs every semester, bringing together college and high school students, employers, and local community members
- Collaborated with Chicago Public Schools to create appropriate IT degree paths for over 1,600 Early College STEM School students

GOODWILL OF CENTRAL IOWA – Johnston, IA2017-2019*Director of Information Technology and Strategic Initiatives

- Author of Goodwill's Five-Year Information Technology Assessment and Strategic Plan 2017-2022
- Senior leadership team member in charge of building Goodwill's first in-house Information Technology Department

PREMAC WEALTH MANAGEMENT SERVICES – West Des Moines, IA2014-2017; 2019-2022*Information Technology Advisor

- Providing managerial and technical support and consulting on an as-needed basis

Executive Director of Technology Strategy and Development

- Ongoing engagement and collaboration with management and all key stakeholders on a variety of business growth, analytic and technology issues, including future administrative and executive structure, staffing, and infrastructure for a new headquarters

IOWA STATE UNIVERSITY – Ames, IA2023-Present*Associate Professor of Teaching, Department of Information Systems and Business Analytics

- Teaching for-credit courses in the baccalaureate MIS program, including Introduction to MIS, Introduction to Python Programming, Intermediate Python Programming, Introduction to Business Analytics, and Enterprise Cybersecurity
- Creator and professor for Creative Problem Solving, a new University Honors course teaching critical thinking skills to undergraduates
- Member of the ISU Task Force on Creating an Applied Minor in Artificial Intelligence
- Member of the ISU Task Force on Plagiarism and Artificial Intelligence Usage and Detection
- Designed new courses and sequences to create a business-focused cybersecurity course track at the undergraduate level